

December 2018 submission call

I Like Knitting is looking for a variety of knitting patterns for our December 2018 issue! Unlike previous December issues, we are going in a new direction and calling this our Gift Guide issue! We are looking for quick knits and trendy designs for everyone on your gift list. Details below.

Articles: Photo Tutorial + project combination (One specific stitch + small project that goes with it)

Deadline: Proposals submission deadline is April 8th. Pattern decisions will be made once all submissions have been received. Please allow several weeks for a response from the due date. Projects due in office July 15th. Projects will be published November 1st.

Compensation/Support

- This varies depending on the size and complexity of the design. Our range is between $150-$350
- For this specific issue, we are focusing on smaller items so our budget is also smaller. This will change back to normal for the next project call
- We prefer that designers use their own yarn, but we can pass along contact information for companies that have offered yarn support in the past.
- We take care of tech editing once we receive the pattern. You are responsible for communicating with our tech editor in a timely manner if she reaches out to you with questions.
- We will handle all photography so the completed projects will need to be sent to our office for a limited period of time. We are not buying any photography. All projects will be returned.

Rights

- We ask for exclusive rights for the first six months, following the pattern's publication date. After that, we ask for rights in perpetuity, so that we may use your project in our site's archives. You, however, are free to re-publish or sell your project as you wish, once the six months are over.

Submission Requirements

Please use our new submission form on our website. Each individual submission attachment should include all of the following as a self-contained document:

- A sketch of your design idea
- A swatch of the proposed stitch work/pattern
- A detailed written description of the project, including any size or shaping information

Submission Themes: Full editorial calendars are available upon request, but here are the projects we are looking for this issue. Images are to be used as inspiration only for color palettes and design elements.

Looking forward to all of your lovely submissions!
